THE STEMTECH STORY

Did you know that Stemtech was founded in 2005, but our story begins decades earlier with the discovery of Aphanizomenon flos-aquae (AFA) in the 1970s? This timeline offers you at-a-glance facts about the company that will help you better understand our origins and accomplishments.

Remarkable Beginnings

1970s

In the 1970s, a school teacher who was concerned about his students' lack of focus and energy wondered if his students would benefit from eating nutrient-dense algae. Inspired by the idea, the teacher began experimenting with a natural growing freshwater plant known as Aphanizomenon flos-aquae (AFA). Those who tried the AFA reported remarkable benefits.

Good News Travels Fast

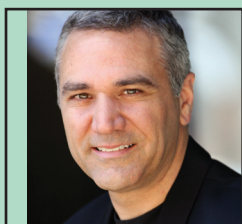

1980s

The multitude of reports touting the results experienced by consumers of AFA helped sales of the botanical soar. However, the secret to the plant's wide range of benefits had yet to be revealed.

Nature Meets Science

1990s

Christian Drapeau arrived on the AFA scene in the 1990's. As a botanical researcher and neurophysiologist, Christian was asked to research the science behind what currently equated to speculation about the benefits of AFA. With the support of his research team, Christian began experimenting with the botanical. Soon thereafter, the scientific community reported findings revealing that AFA contained specific molecules that supported various aspects of human health. Yet, many of the plant's benefits remained unexplained.

An Amazing Discovery

2000s

Inspired by new developments in adult stem cell research, Christian was struck with a novel idea - what if AFA was somehow supporting the body in naturally releasing more stem cells? Motivated by the new challenge, the research team went into high gear. More than 150 experiments later, Christian and his team experienced a breakthrough. At last, they had isolated the unique components responsible for AFA's benefits. Based on this extraordinary discovery, Christian developed a proprietary blend of AFA concentrates that offered consumers a practical method of taking advantage of the botanical's health benefits in the form of a supplement. His next feat would include bringing the product to the global market.

Stemtech is Founded

2005

With a unique product in his possession, Christian needed a business partner that shared his passion for stem cell nutrition and his vision for the future. He found such a partner in Ray Carter, a seasoned business entrepreneur. Christian and Ray worked tirelessly to form Stemtech, launching the company with a single product made from the unique blend of AFA concentrates – StemEnhance®.

Stemtech on the Rise

2007

With the launch of StemEnhance, Stemtech grew exponentially. Growth was partially fueled by a groundbreaking clinical study published in the highly respected journal, Cardiovascular Revascularization Medicine. This study helped to define Stemtech as the leader of the stem cell nutrition industry.

Global Expansion

2008

With its network marketing business model in full effect, sales of Stemtech products began to boom. Worldwide demand for StemEnhance encouraged global expansion and Stemtech opened offices in more than a dozen countries on six continents.

National Recognition

2010

2010 proved to be a big year for Stemtech. The company was chosen as one of three finalists for the US Direct Selling Association's prestigious Rising Star award and made Fortune Magazine's coveted Fortune 5,000 list of fastest-growing privately held companies in American (ranked 1,484 out of over 29 million companies).

STEMCELL NUTRITION

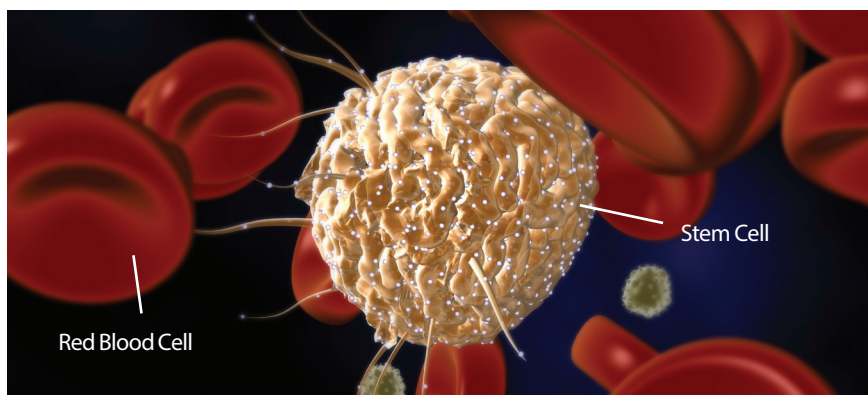

THE STEM CELL NUTRITION DIFFERENCE

Typical nutritional products such as vitamins, minerals, herbs and super-juices work by supporting the function of existing tissue cells. Stem cell nutrition products are different. They work by supporting the release and activity of your adult stem cells. This is an important distinction because your adult stem cells are the cells that go to work when existing tissue cells need to be replaced.

THE POWER OF ADULT STEM CELLS

Adult stem cells can become virtually any type of cell in your body. Their role is to carry out the natural renewal process that maintains and repairs tissues when existing tissue cells break down. Scientists have found that adult stem cells can become heart cells, liver cells, pancreatic cells, muscle cells, brain cells, and cells in the eyes, the joints and more.

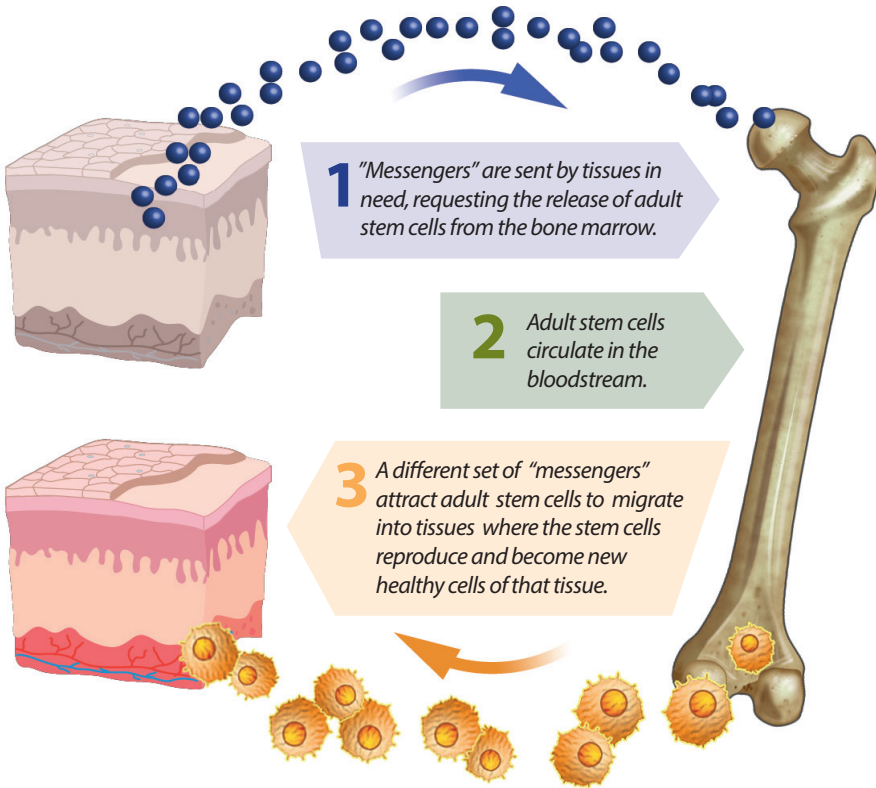

“ The primary roles of adult stem cells in a living organism are to maintain and repair the tissue...”

- U.S. GOVERNMENT'S NATIONAL INSTITUTES FOR HEALTH

YOUR BODY'S RENEWAL SYSTEM:

Your body's renewal system depends on the release of adult stem cells into your bloodstream

Your own adult stem cells have the power to maintain and repair tissue cells as needed – a vital, life-sustaining process that helps to maintain your health and well-being. However, factors such as daily exposure to environmental toxins, physical and mental stress, poor diet and the aging process may cause a decline in your body's ability to renew itself, putting your wellness at stake. SE2™ supports the natural release of your adult stem cells from the bone marrow.

DID YOU KNOW ?

Although the world is still not aware of the true function of adult stem cells for the most part, numerous studies conducted in recent years document that greater numbers of circulating adult stem cells equate to better overall health.

REAL PEOPLE REAL STORIES

BARBARA G.

“I discovered StemEnhance years ago through a friend, tried it and helped me to recover from my stroke. I did not only “fell in love with StemEnhance” but made a great turnaround by helping others. At around the time I wrote and shared my StemEnhance story in my regular column in the Philippine Star, I was overwhelmed by the people responded how they feel better and stay healthier.

I am so thankful for the great impact of StemEnhance in my health, but also, having recognized as Top Earner for the Year of Stemtech Phils, Inc. plus earning huge income from commissions was really a great business opportunity had to be shared. I never thought that at my age I can still earn this huge income.”

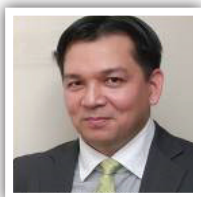

PERCIVAL AND MORIEL E.

“After a devastating wrong career move in construction and a piling mountain of debt, it was a constant search for the right income opportunity. Finally, my wife found this interesting product that has no competition, StemEnhance. She got so excited and signed up. Stemtech was a life-saving for us because we were able to steadily grow our income while helping more than 700 business partners in our group in just 8 months. This is a company that has helped us get back our life.”

DR. CHRISTOPHER T.

“In my practice of Integrative Medicine, I have to address the ever-changing needs of patients who are in dire need of a treatment procedure that yields an excellent cure rate of their cancer. Then, I also began to seek a product that will definitely prevent the occurrence of their disease and I found the precise solution, StemEnhance. Merging both treatments together makes a perfect blend in combating diseases and maintaining wellness. Not only have I taught people on how to stay healthy but also I have enjoyed helping other people access great products like StemEnhance.”
